

Delavi – Courier driver/loader

Courier driver/loader

To strengthen our loading team, we are looking for a delivery driver/loader.

As a delivery driver/loader, you will be responsible for loading and transporting meat products internally at our site. You will work with an (electric) pallet truck, forklift and semi-trailer and ensure that everything runs safely and efficiently. You will be part of a close-knit team in a stable family business where cooperation is key.

Your responsibilities:

- You will assist with transport on the company's yard.
- You will help the loading team with loading.
- You will ensure the smooth and safe flow of materials and products.
- You will be jointly responsible for keeping the yard clean.

Who are you?

- You have a CE driving licence and a valid forklift certificate.
- You have practical experience in driving a forklift.
- You speak fluent Dutch, French or English.
- You are flexible in terms of working hours.
- You are motivated, stress-resistant and punctual.
- You are a real team player with strong communication skills.

Who are we?

Delavi is a family business through and through, active in the meat sector for three generations. We are the link between pig farmers and meat processing companies. To achieve these objectives, professional knowledge, loyalty, flexibility, proactive thinking, smooth communication and a personal approach are paramount.

- A stable job in a growing family business with a good working atmosphere.
- Internal training and opportunities for advancement.
- Attractive terms of employment and a competitive salary.
- Working in a dynamic and professional team.
